ROMEO Y JULIETA GRAN TORO TUBO 28

The Reserva Real Gran Toro is a premium handmade cigar that features a Connecticut-shade Ecuadorian wrapper that is golden brown and silky to the feel. This cigar is paired with Nicaraguan long fillers to give the Reserva Real Gran Toro Tubo a rich, nutty, toasted flavor that is mild to medium in body and strength.

It is comprised of a Connecticut shade wrapper grown in Ecuador, a Honduran binder and Dominican/Honduran long filler tobacco.

MACUNDO VINTAGE 1988 PRODUCTION CHURCHILL 150

Everything about this blend is top-notch. The Connecticut Shade wrapper was considered one of the best seen in literal decades when the tobacco was harvested. Afterwards, the leaves underwent a process called "medio tiempo." Without getting too technical, the leaves were able age 50% longer than most other tobaccos, meaning the flavors that come through are expressive and undeniable. Creamy, delicious, and one-of-a-kind, Macanudo Vintage 1988 is a treasure that's sure to delight.

{ MEDIUM }

DAVIDOFF ESCURIO HALF ROBUSTO 14

A night in Rio inspires an adventure in taste. Our Master Blender refined the fire of the Cuban Criollo leaves, then introduced it to the Brazilian Mata Fina leaf which pulses at the heart of this original blend. Dominican tobaccos and a Habano seed Ecuadorian wrapper add beautiful balance. Sweet meets spice. Like Rio after dark, it's a journey of twists and turns.

SAVAGES CORONA EXTRA 40

A limited edition extension to the Long Live the King series, Caldwell Cigar Co.'s Savages features an undisclosed blend of choice tobaccos, with a Dominican and Nicaraguan filler blend, a Dominican binder, and an exquisite Habano wrapper, resulting in a creamier and nuttier smoking experience compared to the original Long Live the King. Seen here is the Corona Extra vitola.

2011 LA GLORIA CUBANA ARTESANOS DE MIAMI CAMPANA 60

An elegant reddish Nicaraguan wrapper sits atop a rich Ecuador Sumatra binder and aged filler tobaccos from Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic. Due to years of aging, this cigar has a medium-bodied flavor profile, with seasoned notes of pepper, spice, and leather, complemented by undertones of creamy caramel and hints of warm toasted bread. This is a legendary cigar, in a 25-count box, worthy of a very special occasion. A richer, more intense Habano Nicaraguan Oscuro wrapper increases the fiery spicy notes, together with the bold flavors of the filler and binder tobacco. This dynamic box pressed format with its smooth draw result in a truly complex bittersweet palate stimulation.

BLIND MAN'S BLUFF MADURO ROBUSTO 22

The cigars are produced at Tabacalera William Ventura, the first time a Blind Man's Bluff line has been made outside of Honduras. The cigar delivers a rich bold flavor profile, medium-full to full body with notes of chocolate, dried fruit, leather, coffee, and hints of pepper.

ASHTON VSG

Ashton VSG cigars are extremely well-made gems from The Dominican Republic. The tobaccos used are exquisite making each cigar within the line a home-run from start to finish. Taken from the tobacco plant's highest priming, the Ecuadorian sun-grown wrapper offers a rich, reddish hue and spicy, chewy flavor. The four to five-year-old Dominican long fillers are masterfully blended to promote a smooth, but eventful flavor that's hearty and robust. Together, these tobaccos combine to satisfy even the most achieved palates.

There is a non-Cuban brand with the same name produced in the Dominican Republic. Until the 1980s, all cigars were pre-1960 releases. In 1935, Alonso Menéndez purchased the Particulares Factory in Havana and shortly thereafter he created a new brand named Montecristo. The name for the brand was inspired by the Alexandre Dumas novel The Count of Monte Cristo, which was supposedly a very popular choice among the torcedores (cigar rollers) in their factory to have read by the lector on the rolling floor. The now-famous Montecristo logo, consisting of a triangle of six swords surrounding a fleur-de-lis, was designed by John Hunter Morris and is now recognized around the world. Medium to full strength cigars, mostly rolled in the famous H. Upmann factory have a serious following. The first five classic sizes dating back to the beginning are simply called the #1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and to this day are revered for their pleasing taste, superb construction and consistence. The brand is also made in the Dominican republic, but the blend is too new compared with the real deal, especially from the pre-Castro era.

OLD SPECIAL RESERVE PRE-PRO 1917-1932

Harry E. Wilken Company made this prohibition Kentucky whiskey in 1917 using the AMS or American Medical Spirits Company moniker. This Special Old Reserve Bourbon Prohibition Era Bottling was distilled in 1017, and was protected in bond by the AMS Company from the Prohibition Act of 1920, which made alcohol production and consumption illegal. This was bottled in 1932, a year before the Prohibition was repealed. The whiskey was produced by Harry E. Wilken, distillery n° 368 in the 5th district of Kentucky. The AMS Company was one of only about 30 distilling companies to survive Prohibition of the 434 that existed prior. Exploiting the medicinal loophole was the brainchild of Otto Wathen, an idea which continued to prove its value today in the persisting image of his still ever-popular portfolio, which included Old Grand-Dad and Hill & Hill. This 1 pint bottle was filled by the American Medicinal Spirits Company at distillery bonded warehouse n° 19, also in the 5th district of Kentucky, permit n° Ky P-19 and is packaged in a timeless, highly collectible bottle.

CHÂTEAU FONTAINEBLEAU COGNAC 1811 BOTTLED IN 1930

12,500

Our only bottle, EVER, ultra rare bottle of Château de Fontainebleau 1811 Vieille Fine French Napoleon Champagne Cognac.

Château de Fontainebleau is located 55km south of Paris and is now a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The medieval castle and subsequent palace served as a residence for the French monarchs from Louis VII to Napoleon III and our bottle comes from a private collector in the Neuchâtel region of Switzerland. It was kept in an old cellar at 8-12 degrees, ensuring that the bottle wasn't exposed to any sunlight. The bottle dates from the time when Neuchâtel was under French occupation; at the turn of the 19th century, when the king of Prussia was defeated by Napoleon and was forced to give up Neuchâtel in favor of the French.

As one of the rarest cognac finds, this bottle represents an important time in history. It was not only the year that the town of Cognac received Napoleon, but also the year that his second wife, Marie Louise gave birth to his son. The following year, Napoleon began his disastrous campaign against Russia, amassing a vast army of 500,000 infantry 100,000 cavalry and 80,000 in the baggage trains, plus other contingents from all over Napoleon's world. It is hard to believe that a cognac that was made in honor of Napoleon, while he was still alive and which he almost certainly tasted, is still available to purchase and drink today in 2020!

Napoleon Cognac was recreated by Courvoisier in 1910. It is now a Fine Champagne cognac (a classification that didn't exist in 1811) and is made from blend of Grande and Petite Champagne cognac, some matured for up to 20 years. The terms "Grande" and "Petite" Champagne are a reference to the classification of the areas where the Cognac grapes (the Ugni Blanc variety) are grown. This 1811 cognac was bottled in 1900, the turn of the century, after almost 90 years in cask.

"EXCEPTIONAL" is the review of the very few that have had the privilege to taste it. Go ahead, why not? Right now, you are in the right place to make history with this bottle!
