Michael Mina's story is one of over three decades of influence, passion, and achievement. With accolades including James Beard Foundation "Who's Who of Food & Beverage," Gayot Restaurateur of the Year, Bon Appétit Chef of the Year, as well as the International Food and Beverage Forum's Restaurateur of the Year, Michelin-starred Chef Mina continues to dazzle the culinary world with bold dining concepts that have contributed to San Francisco's reputation as a world-class epicurean destination and made him an integral part of the dining scene across the country and beyond.

Born in Cairo, Egypt and raised in Ellensburg, Washington, Chef Mina has had a love affair with the kitchen since a very early age - creating memorable dining experiences for family, friends, and guests alike. His epicurean journey began in 1987 at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, during which he supplemented his formal schooling with hands-on experience in Charlie Palmer's kitchen at the famed Aureole in New York City. After graduation, Chef Mina was presented with the opportunity of a lifetime with Chef George Morrone, then-Executive Chef of the Bel Air Hotel in Los Angeles. The two were asked to develop a concept and create a menu for an upscale seafood restaurant in San Francisco - from there, AQUA was born. Though Chef Mina was welcomed to San Francisco by a major earthquake on his second day in the city, he was unfazed and went to work immediately, dedicating himself to creating a dining experience that quickly became one of the pillars of the Bay Area restaurant community.

In 2002, Chef Mina's culinary and business vision led to the founding of his restaurant management company, MINA Group, with partner Andre Agassi. Under the auspices of MINA Group, he has opened over 40 virtual brands and award-winning brick-and-mortar outlets across the U.S. and Dubai.

Sara grew up in a tight-knit community of commercial salmon fisherman in South Central, Alaska. Witnessing first-hand what a cohesive team, with a good captain, can truly accomplish, she developed a “make it happen” attitude. Meals were a big part of the summer, and Sara spent a lot of time in the kitchen, from a young age, with her mom cooking for crews or 12–15 people. The Pacific Ocean still calls her back to Alaska, when the salmon start their yearly run back to the river. Here, she spends the long days with her immediate and “adopted summer time” family, from mornings in the boats, to evenings helping her mom prep the next day’s meals.

After high school graduation, Sara went to culinary school for pastry in Ottawa at Le Cordon Bleu, where she was introduced into the savory side of the kitchen. From there she headed to the “lower-48”, landing in Phoenix, where she began working at various restaurants in the Valley; most notably was Noca, where she developed her culinary style under Chef Chris Curtiss, who opened her eyes to not only ingredients and cooking techniques she had not been exposed to before, but a true appreciation of local produce, sustainable seafood and a general respect of the products used on a daily basis.

Wanderlust kicked in and Sara moved to San Diego, working as a Chef de Partie, at Addison at the Grand del Mar for a season. In 2012, she moved back to help open Isabella’s Kitchen at Grayhawk Golf Club. The opportunity presented itself to work with Chef Curtiss again at Bourbon Steak Scottsdale at the Fairmont Princess in the fall of 2013, where she stayed into the spring of 2015, helping the team transition as Chef Jeremy McMillian took helm. Staying with the Mina group, Sara transferred to Miami to spend a season at what was Michael Mina 74 at Fontainebleau Miami Beach as the Senior Sous Chef. Cue to fall 2017, back at Bourbon Steak Scottsdale, Sara was promoted as Executive Chef. She is passionate about creating dining experiences that guests will enjoy and want to return many times for, while cultivating a culture of respect, inspiration and commitment to the culinary team.

Sara’s downtime is spent between the local dog parks in Central Phoenix, where she tries to tire out her Jack Russell terrier, Kalgin, and when that feat is complete, she spends time in her art room, jamming out to music and mentally recharging with acrylic paints and blank canvases.

“GIVE IT A LITTLE LOVE. IF YOU TAKE THE TIME TO TREAT THE PRODUCTS WE ARE LUCKY ENOUGH TO USE WITH RESPECT FROM START TO FINISH, I HONESTLY FEEL THE GUEST CAN TASTE THE DIFFERENCE.”
